

A Game of thrones

In the global custody world there is only one throne, reserved for the largest asset servicer in the world. And the race is heating up as two custodians approach the $50 trillion mark.