Animation adaptation
The RSC breaks new ground in bringing East Asian representation to the stage

Changing the conversation
Why we need to be questioning our discussions around racial difference in Shakespeare

A different point of view
The visually impaired theatre makers pushing for radical change across the industry

PLUS: The value of dance in a theatre curriculum, democracy in drama and the latest news, reviews and more...