

CONTENTS
SEPTEMBER 2012 VOLUME CLXXVI NO. 601

Cover

The roof of the Louvre's new galleries for Islamic art, situated within the Visconti courtyard
Photo © 2011 Musée du Louvre/Olivier Ouadah
See Ben Luke's article on pp.48-53

- 21 Editor's Letter
Cultural legacy
- 22 Agenda
What's on around the world in September

Features

- 30 Paris Mode
Susan Moore previews highlights of the 26th Biennale des Antiquaires, Paris
- 38 Palace of Darkness
Edwin Heathcote assesses the radically transformed western wing of Paris's Palais de Tokyo
- 48 A Legacy Revived
Henri Loyrette, president and director of the Louvre, discusses the museum's new galleries for Islamic art
- 54 Figures of Power
Steven Kossak talks to Susan Moore about the instinctive and aesthetic choices that underpin his collecting of African and Oceanic art
- 62 Permanent Colour
Edouard Papet examines how stoneware production revived polychrome sculpture in late 19th century France
- 68 In the Chinese Taste
Selma Schwartz analyses the items produced by the Sèvres manufactory in the wake of an extraordinary period of cultural exchange with China
- 74 Titian Transformed
Curator Minna Moore Ede talks to Apollo about an unusual collaborative exhibition at the National Gallery

Sèvres and China: pp. 68-73