

Gollancz Science Fiction
 TPB January
 £14.99 400pp
 978 0 575 11973 4
 eBook: £14.99 / 978 0 575 11990 1

SIMON INGS

Wolves

A chilling literary dystopia for those who love Iain Banks and J.G. Ballard.

An informed, atmospheric, cutting-edge tale of the near future, Wolves is a spectacular return to SF for acclaimed novelist Simon Ings.

‘One of the very few British writers to be both contemporary and genuinely challenging’
 – *The Guardian

Simon Ings has written six previous novels. He also writes non-fiction and contributes to New Scientist magazine.

author:

Location: London, SE23
 Available for Interview
www.simoningsmirror.wordpress.com
 f/ simon.ings.52
 @simonings

Gollancz Science Fiction and Fantasy • January / February 2014

Gollancz Fantasy
 TPB February
 £14.99 320pp
 978 0 575 09096 5
 eBook: £14.99 / 978 0 575 09098 9

ANDRZEJ SĄPKOWSKI

Translated by David French

Baptism of Fire

The third novel in the hugely successful Witcher series.

Geralt, the witcher of Riva, is back in another exciting adventure from Polish superstar Andrzej Sapkowski, available in English for the first time. The fate of the world – magical and real – is threatened, and the princess who could unite the warring factions has vanished. Only Geralt can find her – but he’s on his death bed...

The Witcher series has been adapted into a bestselling video game series.

Andrzej Sapkowski is one of Poland’s most successful authors and a winner of the David Gemmell Legend Award.

author:

Location: Lodz, Poland
 Available for Interview
www.sapkowski.pl

