ELIZABETH MAY

The Vanishing Throne

The world fell to an apocalypse, but the Falconer survived – and now she must save her friends.

The Falconer was one of the most anticipated cross-over YA novels of 2013 and ended with an explosive cliffhanger. Readers have been on the edge of their seats to find out what happened next; now we finally return to Edinburgh and see what, and who, survived the destruction.

Elizabeth May is a writer and a professional photographer. The Falconer was her debut novel.

TOM TONER

The Promise of the Child

The most important debut SF novel in the last five years – the arrival of an astonishing young talent.

An extraordinarily inventive and hugely original SF novel that charts a compelling vision of a future and spins a hypnotic narrative around it. The richness and originality of its vision combined with its playful take on hard science make this a novel with real commercial potential that will be talked about for years and should launch a major career in SF. This is an SF novel like no other.

Tom Toner is a debut author. He studied fine art and painting, and collects fossilised shark teeth.
