

The Brontë Parsonage Museum

The Brontë Parsonage Museum is hosting
The Mslexia Roadshow on Saturday 28 November 2009

Mslexia Workshop : Writing a Synopsis, 10am – 12pm
Led by novelist and founder of Mslexia Debbie Taylor, this creative writing workshop is aimed at novelists, to help you identify what your novel is really about, and communicate it to an agent or editor.

Mslexia Workshop : First Paragraph, 1.30pm- 3.30pm
Led by novelist and experienced creative writing tutor Jane Rogers, this workshop is aimed at novelists and short story writers and will help you create an arresting first paragraph.

Tickets £10.00 per workshop; includes admission to museum; women only; places limited and must be booked in advance.

Sarah Waters in conversation, 6pm
Sarah Waters will be in conversation with Debbie Taylor about her writing career and latest novel, The Little Stranger.

Tickets £8 and should be booked in advance; all welcome.

You can book on to each event individually or book for the whole day

For further information and bookings contact jenna.holmes@bronte.org.uk / 01535 640188

With support from Arts Council England the Brontë Parsonage Museum runs a programme of events to celebrate women's writing, from creative writing days to author talks and more

To see all of our upcoming events visit www.bronte.info

DURHAM BOOK FESTIVAL

Free Range Reading

60 authors will be appearing in Durham this autumn, including:
Jack Dee, Carol Ann Duffy, Nick Hornby, Marina Lewycka & Kate Mosse

23rd October – 1st November 2009
www.bookfestival.org.uk

Continuing Education

M.St in Creative Writing

This Master's Degree in Creative Writing is a two-year, part-time course offering a unique combination of high contact hours, genre specialization, and critical and creative breadth.

Apply by 22 January 2010

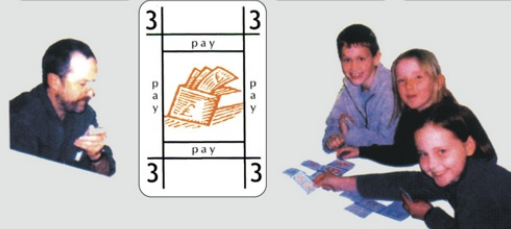

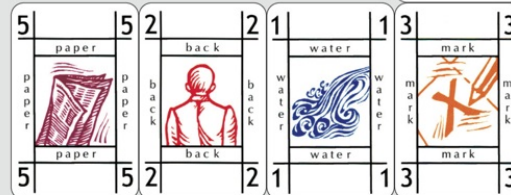

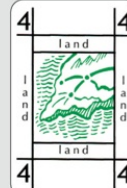

Phone 01865 280145 or email:
mstcreativewriting@conted.ox.ac.uk
www.conted.ox.ac.uk/mstcw

LeCardo

Exciting new word game
Players: 2-4 Ages: 8 to adult

Challenge and excite friends and family with LeCardo, the new word game that's sweeping the UK. LeCardo tests players' skill in adding words together to form compounds. But that's not all: like all the best strategy games, players need to think several moves ahead to maximise their scores and frustrate their opponents. If you like words, you'll LOVE LeCardo!

'A rewarding experience', TES
'An exciting test of verbal skills', Daily Express

Price £5.99 plus p&p.
Postage inclusive prices: 1: £7.49 2: £13.49 3: £18.99 4: £24.99 5: £29.99
Available at book, toy & gift shops across the UK (list on website). Or send a cheque to:
Leo Marshall designs 322 Panther House 38 Mount Pleasant London WC1X 0AN
Tel: (020) 7278 1269 E: LeCardo101@aol.com W: www.lecardo.com