

An aerial photograph of an archaeological site, likely a Roman villa or farmstead. The site is characterized by a grid of numerous small, circular pits or postholes, some of which are connected by faint lines. The ground is a mix of light brown and tan colors, with some darker patches. The overall layout suggests a structured plan, possibly a courtyard or a series of rooms. The word "current" is written in purple, and "ARCHAEOLOGY" is written in large yellow letters with a black outline.
