

Contents

Issue 284
January/February 2020

Cover story

New decade New ideas

10 The challenges that loom in the new decade can appear daunting. But great minds are buzzing with fresh thinking

Liberalism on the front foot

CAS MUDDÉ

Business paying its taxes

EMMANUEL SAEZ AND GABRIEL ZUCMAN

New life in older age

CAMILLA CAVENDISH

Planning for pandemics

PETER FRANKOPAN

Telling Britain's true story

DAVID OLUSOGA

Childhood unplugged

KATHARINE BIRBALSINGH

Up front

- 1 Editorial
- 6 Contributors
- 8 Letters
- 17 Stephen Collins's cartoon strip

SPEED DATA

- 19 All that glitters

TOM CLARK

THE DUEL

- 20 Should smacking be illegal?

SUSANNA RUSTIN VS LUCY DENYER

70

76

Essays

22 Excuse me, are you English?

Brexit and a nation's identity

PETER POMERANTSEV

28 "This house is no longer a fit home for British democracy"

How parliament fell apart

RAFAEL BEHR

34 The circus trial of Donald J Trump

A shambolic process that doesn't kill the president may make him stronger

SAM TANENHAUS

40 Clive James

A tribute to the late Prospect columnist

SAMEER RAHIM

44 Green new meal

Can veganism really save us?

HEPHZIBAH ANDERSON

48 The social mobility trap

Attempts to level the playing field through education have failed

TOM CLARK

54 The Gift that keeps on giving

The Booker Prize-winning author on priceless presents

MARGARET ATWOOD

58 The new arms race

The last nuclear treaty is about to collapse. Are we safe?

JEFFREY LEWIS

66 Two countries, one planet

How the UK outperformed Germany's energy transition

ADAM TOOZE

70 PROSPECT PORTRAIT Nevertheless, she persisted

Elizabeth Warren would be America's most radical president. Can she win?

EMILY TAMKIN

76 The nation's landlord

How Tim Martin's Wetherspoon pubs have brought Britain together

DAN HANCOX