

THE BIG SHOT

Where are we?

Craigellachie Bridge,
River Spey, Scotland

Coordinates

57.4912° N, 3.1938° W

Why tour here?

This wonderful 19th-century bridge, built in 1814 and spanning the River Spey, is the oldest surviving cast iron bridge in Scotland. It was designed by celebrated Scottish engineer Thomas Telford and crosses the Spey in a single span. For more, see p28.

Don't miss...

The Glen Grant Distillery, on the Speyside Malt Whisky Trail, is just four miles north of the bridge.

Photographer

Getty Images