

Contents

Ukraine's unfinished story

7 Nowhere to hurry?

Victoria Guerra

The low rates of immunisation against COVID-19 in Ukraine can be explained by certain errors in the organisation of the process and the chaos on the ground. However, the main problem remains a lack of vaccine supplies.

14 Uncovering the paradoxes of values in Ukrainian Society

Anna Osypchuk

This past February was seven years since the climax of the Maidan and the sniper shootings. From today's perspective those events are intrinsically connected to the attempted annexation of Crimea by Russia and its aggression in eastern Ukraine.

19 Invisible no more

Guillaume Ptak

Over the past seven years the number of servicewomen in the Ukrainian armed forces has more than doubled.

24 The minister of everything

Kateryna Pryshchepa

Arsen Avakov, Ukraine's minister of internal affairs, is the longest serving minister in the country's history.

31 The silent Russian colonisation of Crimea

Olena Yermakova

36 Ukraine's public diplomacy enters a new phase

Nadiia Bureiko

42 Nord Stream 2. Strictly business or wider threat?

Mykola Voytiv

The role of the Ukrainian system, in the functioning of the pan-European gas transit infrastructure, is extremely important in the strategic economic and energy security contexts of life in Europe.

47 Odesa's growing mismanagement

Maxym Przybyszewski

Opinion and Analysis

62 How should the EU deal with Russia after Navalny's poisoning?

Alexandra Dienes

Steps towards the managing the European Union's relations with Russia needs a long-term perspective and a corresponding political dynamic that requires audacity.

69 Streamlining soft power

Miłosz J. Zieliński

75 Hungary's friends in need

Dominik Héjj

82 Crisis like a dream

Wojciech Wojtasiewicz

Georgia has been trapped in a political, economic and social black hole. It is affected by crisis after crisis.

90 A fortress of human rights

Adam Chmielewski

Europe will either be united or not. It cannot be ruled out that an unforeseen event may lead to the disintegration of the EU. But it can also not be ruled out that an unforeseen event will cement it.

Interviews

101 Turkey's original sin

A conversation with Candan Badem