What the professionals say! Damon Brown

Damon Brown plays his 'Signature' RMRB Rimless and Bell Stayless™ Trumpet.

"I love playing this trumpet. The response, the feel and above all the beautiful tone throughout the range make it a pleasure to play. As soon as I blew it I decided to use it on my upcoming gigs and recordings and I was thrilled with the results. The warmth and depth of the sound are apparently in part attributable to its unique design which incorporates a rimless and stayless bell. The instruments also look good and you can feel someone has thought hard about the details. I also enjoyed the flugelhorn and now can't wait to try the long model cornet. It's exciting to see an innovative British made instrument on the market. Good luck to Raw Brass."
